My dear President,-

I judge from Mr. Catalano's letter that his entering the military service of his country is a rather remote contingency. If, however, it should turn out that he must go, two questions arise (1) the carrying on of his work & (2) his status while absent. With regard to the first, it would likely be possible to secure someone (perhaps Mr. Cacciapuoti) to serve as a temporary expedient for the coming session, taking at least a part of the work for a smaller remuneration than Mr. Catalano receives. We ought to facilitate matters for him as much as possible, I think, even though doing so should entail extra work ~~for~~ <sup>on</sup> the other members of the staff. The Italian cause is after all a part of our own. With regard to his status I should recommend giving him leave of absence for the year if necessary with such <sup>proportionate</sup> salary as the University grants in similar cases, several of which I suppose have already arisen.

I am returning Mr. Catalano's letter herewith

Very truly yours,
President Falconer,
University of Toronto,
Toronto.
W. H. Fraser.

Dear Professor Fraser:

I am sending you a copy of the letter that
I have sent to Mr. Catalano.

Yours sincerely,

President.
